

Know the risks.

It's only natural to feel a little unsteady stepping into the shower or uneasy walking down stairs. Falling is the leading cause of unintentional-injury deaths for people over the age of 65.

For those 65+, falling once doubles the chance of falling again.

Did you know that remaining on the floor for more than two hours after a fall increases the risk of dehydration, pressure ulcers, muscle breakdown, hypothermia and pneumonia?

Other risk factors that can increase the odds of a fall:

- Lower-body weakness
- Gait and balance problems
- Poor vision
- Problems with feet and/or shoes
- Low blood pressure
- Chronic conditions
- Fear of falling
- Medications
- Environment or home hazards
